and he said he saw the Officers pulling out the female from the black Infiniti, but he did not see the collision and he did not see the male suspect driver. [REDACTED] said he identified the female suspect to the Officers as the same female who yell at him after the collision. I showed [REDACTED] a Google Satellite map of the area at Prairie Avenue/Manchester Boulevard/Arbor Vitae Street and La Brea Avenue. [REDACTED] then indicated with a pen the path he and the suspect drove during the incident. I asked [REDACTED] if he was able to see the license plate of the black Infiniti when he was chasing him, but he could not make out any numbers or letters.

Detective J. Aranda then admonished [REDACTED] of the photographic line-up and he said he understood.

Detective J. Aranda showed [REDACTED] the constructed photographic line-ups and after carefully looking at the photos he positively identified the suspect Kameron Reed in photo #2 as the suspect who shot at him. He also partially identified the female suspect Krystal Snoddy in photo #4 or photo #1 as the female suspect passenger who yell, "You stupid bitch". [REDACTED] said it was between number 4 and number 1.

Officer Mann said when he reached the area of La Brea Avenue and Florence Avenue, he saw the suspect vehicle and described it as a black Infiniti sedan. Officer Mann said he continued to follow Officer Rogers patrol vehicle which was traveling northbound La Brea Avenue towards Hyde Park Boulevard. Once Officer Mann arrived to the intersection of La Brea Avenue and Hyde Park, he saw that the black Infiniti had already collided into a tree at the northwest corner of Hyde Park Boulevard and La Brea Avenue. Officer Mann then illustrated with a pen the location of the suspect's vehicle, Officer Roger's vehicle and his patrol vehicle on a Google Maps of the area. I asked Officer Mann what he sees as he pulls up and he said he heard approximately 1 to 5 gunshots and saw smoke in the air around the area where Officer Rogers was standing. I asked if he saw the suspect at that time and he said no.

Officer Mann said he exited his vehicle and ran towards Officer Roger's location, next to his vehicle, he saw a male subject running northbound on Lamos street from Hyde Park Boulevard. Officer Mann described the suspect as a male Black wearing red clothing, but he never saw his face. Officer Mann said he saw that the suspect had braided hair, thin to medium build, tall. Officer Mann said he never saw any weapons on him or in his hands. I asked if Officer Rogers said anything to him and he said no. A containment was established by assisting units and Officer Mann said he was later told by IPD Officer Delgado that witnesses saw the suspect possibly tossed an unknown object over the west wall of the Equipment Rental business. While checking the area, Officer Mann said he located a semi auto green with black slide handgun laying on the ground just east of the aforementioned wall. The weapon was secured and later photographed and recovered by IPD Forensics personnel. I asked Officer Mann if he recalled seeing a female occupant inside the suspect's vehicle and he said yes, but he did not recall where she was seated in the car. The interview was concluded.

At approximately 2030 hours, I responded to the crime scene and met with Patrol Sgt. P. Manning and IPD Forensics R. Paul who briefed me on the crime scene and evidence. I saw the area was secured off by IPD Patrol Units and yellow crime scene tape. A crime scene log and checklist was monitored and completed by Officer L. Guananja #1068. Inglewood Police Department Forensics personnel (Forensic Investigators R. Paul #3104, C. Hewson #3111) processed the crime scene by taking photographs, measurements and collecting evidence.
